The election fever (/taxonomy/term/1743) grew up in BTC as few days left scheduled on April 8 next, the AIUDF party has also lunched their campaigns putting own candidates and claimed that party will get large majority in the council election.

The AIUDF has stepped for the first time ever and put their own candidates including three candidates in Fakiragram, Guma and Srirampur constituencies in Kokrajhar district besides in other three districts of BTAD. The AIUDF party will score large seats in the election as irrespective of caste and creed communities are supporting the party and it will take strong step in formation of council, a AIUDF party leader (/taxonomy/term/1820) claimed.

Abdul Ali Mandal, AIUDF candidate for Fakiragram (Non-ST (/taxonomy/term/1997) reserved) today campaigned at Fakiragram bazar and sought votes in the election. He said that he will get majority votes and his winning is cent percent clear as people are coming forward to vote to AIUDF party.

He said that he will take steps to solve problems of riot-affected people in the region and social integration will be his prime step if he is voted to power. He also told that several central leaders (/taxonomy/term/2082) including AIUDF supremo Maulana Badaruddin Ajmal, Aditya Lanthasa will reach in Kokrajhar to campaign for party candidates on and from March 30 for three days.

AIUDF party supporters claimed that this AIUDF will score large seats in the election and making of social integration is the priority issue of the election.
