The Asom Jatiyatabadi Yuva Chatra Parishad (AJYCP (/taxonomy/term/1764)) has gone global when the organization promoting the spirit of nationalism has launched (/taxonomy/term/1637) its own website on Sunday.

Noted journalist Adip Kumar Phukan launched (/taxonomy/term/1637) the website at a function in Bishnu Nirmala (/taxonomy/term/1745) Bhawan in Guwahati attended by many AJYCP (/taxonomy/term/1764) leaders (/taxonomy/term/2082) and activists.

In his brief address Phukan said that the website would help the organization approach the people with a clear message at a time when a number of issues have been confronting Assam and its people.

He further said that the pressure groups need to mount pressure on Delhi and Dispur to stop (/taxonomy/term/2235) exploiting the valuable resources which belong to Assam.

The website contains the organization's manifesto, constitution along with the details of the organizational structure and activities and latest news.
