

Anti dam protest greets Jairam Ramesh in Guwahati

editor · 20:06, 10 Sept 2010 · 56952 views · 1 min read

A vociferous protest against big dams reaches its crucial stage when union environment minister Jairam Ramesh was greeted with protest as he was arriving in Guwahti for a public hearing on the NHPC owned big dam in Arunachal Pradesh.

As the Union minister started the public hearing at Machkhowa, ITA, hundreds of local organizations and political parties approached him to register stiff protest again the on going construction of the big dam in Gerukamukh by NHPC in the name of the lower Subansiri hydel project. Citing the expert panel report, these parties and organisations have told the minister that the big dam might spell an ecological disaster for the people in down stream areas.

editor

Please send your comments to editor@assamtimes.org

Original URL: <https://assamtimes.org/article/anti-dam-protest-greets-jairam-ramesh-in-guwahati-4172> | Published: 10 September 2010 | © 2026 Assam Times