

LATEST NEWS

Boost for NE cancer treatment

AT News · 19:07, 17 Feb 2017 | Updated 19:12, 17 Feb 2017 · 9036 views · 1 min read

After B Barooah Cancer (/taxonomy/term/2066) Hospital, yet another state (/taxonomy/term/2332) –of-the-art hospital injects no less ray of hopes for thousands of cancer (/taxonomy/term/2066) patients from the north eastern region. Union health minister JP Nadda opened the 20 beded cancer (/taxonomy/term/2066) hospital adjacent to the Gauhati Medical College Hospital at a function on Friday evening.

Nadda, in his speech said the centre will help the entire region provide best possible treatment for the cancer (/taxonomy/term/2066) patients.

State (/taxonomy/term/2332) health minister Himanta Biswa Sarma called it a memorable day in the state (/taxonomy/term/2332)'s health sector saying that the hospital will be of immense help for Assam and other north eastern states to curb cancer (/taxonomy/term/2066) disease.

Earlier in the day, Nadda laid the corner stone of the Dhubri Medical College calling it a giant leap in the health sector. He said the Centre is committed to help the region get the modern healthcare facility.

On Saturday, Nadda us scheduled to lay the foundation stone if the proposed medical college in Nagaon.

AT News

Assam Times Staff. editor@assamtimes.org

Original URL: <https://assamtimes.org/article/boost-for-ne-cancer-treatment-18461> | Published: 17 February 2017 | © 2026 Assam Times