BPPF president Rabiram Narzary makes it plain and simple that his party was not merged with United Peoples Party.

In an exclusive interview with Assam Times, he said that BPPF is still alive to work for the uplift of all people.

He said people are wasting multi party integration in the country and that is why, people can form new party to facilitate services among society.

He welcomed UPP which aims at well being of the people.

According to him, central executive committee of the party has been organising at Barpeta Road on Saturday where nine district committees from BTAD region are participating.

The central meeting will discuss various issues and party activities including reconstruction and restructure of the party would be discussed thoroughly and expected several resolutions to be adopted.

He said that he has no any tendency to dissolve his party and his partymen will continue.

'There is no any message and voices to emerge in other parties like BPF, Congress, AIUDF, BJP in his life in coming days to come', Rabiram said.
