Chief Minister Tarun Gogoi said on Saturday that he would be happy if he sees Rahul Gandhi as the prime minister. Talking to reporters in New Delhi, Gogoi said that the party has yet to formally declare the AICC vice president as the prime ministerial candidate but the mood inside the party suggested that he would be the prime minister if the party wins the upcoming polls. “On many occasions I have said that Rahul Gandhi is a fit candidate for prime minister,” he said before his brain storming session with the party vice president.
