The Sonaram HS School Playground in Guwahati turns into a mini Assam when a huge extravaganza showcasing the way of living of the ethnic communities gets underway on Tuesday.

Being organized by the directorate of cultural affairs the three day long Mahabahu Utsav is giving the people a rare opportunity to display the handloom, handicraft, agricultural tools, ethnic food, etc.

This is apart from showcasing music, dance and performing folk arts aiming at promoting the cultural treasure trove of the state.

Talking to Assam Times on Tuesday, organizers said that the theme this time is Peace Through Culture and Creativity. Hundreds of people thronged the venue to visit exhibitions, screening of films, laser animation show.

The focal point of attraction on Wednesday is the screening of feature films apart from workshops..

Sattriya dance, performance by new generation of singers, Bihu dance, apparel show are kept for Thursday.
