An eerie silence prevails in Meghalaya \(/taxonomy/term/2343\) a day after the police killed United A'chik Liberation Army (UALA) chief \(/taxonomy/term/2020\) Singbirth N. Marak alias Norrok X \(/taxonomy/term/2012\). Momin during an encounter.

Operation is still on to find out his elusive associates who sustained injury in the gun fight \(/taxonomy/term/2073\) at Matronggre forest.

Police further claimed to have recovered an AK-rifle along with a pistol and a grenade from the spot.

Acting on a tip off police on Saturday afternoon conducted an operation inside the forest where the armed rebels started firing at the commandos. The dreaded rebel leader \(/taxonomy/term/1820\) who was preparing a massive blueprint to unleash terror with the help of NDFB in Assam died on the spot.

Norrok surrendered before Chief Minister Mukul Sangma a couple of years back and suddenly vanished for a move to take action for his involvement in the killings of two Williamnagar prison officials in East Garo Hills \(/taxonomy/term/2498\) in 2010. He was the kingpin of the Goalpara massacre where \(/taxonomy/term/1898\) ⁷ \(/taxonomy/term/1898\) Rabha people were killed in 2013.
