Yet another incident of gangrape sends no less shock and anger across the state (</taxonomy/term/2332>) on Thursday. The victim is battling to survive at the Gauhati Medical College Hospital.

The incident took place in Tamulpur areas where the local residents rescued (</taxonomy/term/1630>) a girl from a house where she was gangraped on Wednesday night.

The villagers, further, caught one of the rapists to be thrashed before handing over (</taxonomy/term/2166>) to the police. The victim was initially rushed to a local hospital and then shifted to the GMCH.

A police team is interrogating the arrested rapist to extract the inputs of the whereabouts of other perpetrators. Many local organizations have demanded exemplary punishment for the perpetrators.
