

LATEST NEWS

Jumbos create havoc in Udalguri District

Shajid Khan · 15:47, 22 Feb 2016 · 8002 views · 1 min read

A herd of wild elephants created havoc in Rajapara area near the Indo-Bhutan border of Udalguri (/taxonomy/term/113) district on Monday morning last. Wild Tusker damaged the walls and ate paddy stocks in the house of one Mahendra Deka. Two other commercial shops at Nalapara chowk area were also damaged by the Tusker. Though forest officials were informed about the matter they had turned deaf ear to it alleged the local residents. It may be mentioned that from the last few years Man-Elephant (/taxonomy/term/57) conflict has taken worst turn in the district due to unabted deforestation by unscrupulous people and encroachment of forest lands under the very nose of forest officials.

Shajid Khan

Recipient of The Annual Colosseum Awards 2014 & 2015 (by The Assam Tribune group), Shajid Khan is an Independent journalist based in Assam. He has contributed numerous political, socio-political stories for bountiful national,international as well as Assam based publications including The New York Times,Firstpost,The Telegraph. He also pens down analytic commentary on print and web based publications.

Original URL: <https://assamtimes.org/article/jumbos-create-havoc-in-udalguri-district-16383> | Published: 22 February 2016 | © 2026 Assam Times