Ex. President and missile man, Dr. APJ Abdul Kalam, attended the special meeting of the golden jubilee ceremony of the Oil India Higher secondary school, Duliajan on January 27 as a special guest and joined a personal conversation with the students of the school. In his 45 minutes speech, the Kalam spoke about the importance of education. He recalled the dedication of his teachers in his primary education. He requested the students to develop self-confidence following the principle of, "I have wings, I will fly". The philosopher- scientist, the writer of 135 books, Dr. Kalam also advised the students to follow the four paths -hard work, noble aim, continuity of learning and perseverance. In this programme, the chairman cum CMD of Oil India, Nayanmoni Bora and many other dignitaries' were present.

Dr. Kalam also laid the foundation stone of the Botanical garden and took part in the tree plantation programme.
