Monsoon misery in Barpeta

AT News · 19:06, 8 Jul 2016 · 12111 views · 1 min read

A rising water level (/taxonomy/term/2232) of the mighty river Bramhaputra wreaked no less havoc in Barpeta in the form of flood where Bhogerpar and its adjoining areas have come under the surging waters (/taxonomy/term/2337). These areas with a considerable population have been remaining under water for the last 5 days. The situation is taking a grim turn as (/taxonomy/term/2291) the water level (/taxonomy/term/2232) refuses to recede. Adding the woes, the strong current of the surging waters (/taxonomy/term/2337) have breached a ring rendering many people homeless. But nobody of the district administration has so far visited the helpless people.
