More rains compounds misery

AT News · 18:13, 24 Jul 2016 · 8196 views · 1 min read

More rains might compound the flood fury in the next couple of weeks in Assam. The famed Kaziranga (/taxonomy/term/122) National (/taxonomy/term/1874) Park, Pobitora wildlife Sanctuary have been reeling under waters (/taxonomy/term/2337) fetching brimful misery for the one horn rhinos and other birth (/taxonomy/term/2090) and animal (/taxonomy/term/2081).

Rhinos, tigers, deer, buffalos, elephants have been shifting to the nearby hills in the Kaziranga (/taxonomy/term/122) National (/taxonomy/term/1874) Park forcing the authorities to set up the activities to deal (/taxonomy/term/1922) with the poachers.

Same scene prevails in Pobitora where the wild animals have been trying to get out of the blues. The worst affected districts include Lakhimpur, Golaghat, Morigaon (/taxonomy/term/101), Dhubri, Jorhat, Sivsagar, Dhemaji, Kokrajhar, Barpeta, Bongaigaon, Nagain, Dibrugarh and Chirang. Two persons one each in lakhimpur and Morigaon (/taxonomy/term/101) lost their lives.

Then river Brahmaputra (/taxonomy/term/2226) along with its tributaries Dhansari, Jia Bharali, Puthimari, Beki and Sankosh have been flowing above the danger (/taxonomy/term/1965) level (/taxonomy/term/2232) suggesting more deteriorating scene.
