As the Assam assembly election date is approaching the Nagaon citizens are waking-up with development works of present Govt. knocking at their doors at the end of almost five years long wait. The passing of each day is here witnessed by some by-lanes of this city being dugged, repaired and renovated with fresh coating of bitumen. The sleep mode of Govt. bodies now seems to be turning ON at right time when these 'road-show' will at-least make voters stand softer on Govt. so called neglecting attitude towards developmental work in totality.

Its time for the Govt. to wait with cross hands and see what voters decide on vote front on account of this last minute developmental strategy to show-off newly built road network prior to election day ahead !
