Delhi and NCR are still unsafe for the north eastern women if Sunday's incident is any indication. A gang of three miscreants taped a Sikkimese woman inside a moving vehicle \(/taxonomy/term/2490\) where she was forcibly taken away from Gurgaon \(/taxonomy/term/2174\) on Sunday.

According to the complaint, the miscreants forcibly lifted the woman at night immediately after landed near her house in Sector \(/taxonomy/term/1898\) 7 \(/taxonomy/term/1898\) on her way back from the Cannaught Palace in New Delhi \(/taxonomy/term/1868\) where she works.

Then the trio repeatedly taped her inside the moving vehicle (/taxonomy/term/2490) and dumped her at Najafgarh in the national capital before vanishing from the spot.

Walking people rescued (/taxonomy/term/1630) her and sent to a local police point who referred the case to their Gurgaon (/taxonomy/term/2174) counterpart for investigation which is in progress.
