For the benefit of lady member-scribes of Guwahati Press Club (GPC (/taxonomy/term/86)), a sanitary napkin destroyer machine was launched (/taxonomy/term/1637) on Friday (9 September (/taxonomy/term/1961)2016 (/taxonomy/term/1961)) in the club premises.

Sponsored by Junior Chamber International Guwahati, the automatic machine was officially handed over \(/taxonomy/term/2166\) to press club authority by JFP Sweta Somani, JFP Mitu Agarwal in presence of JC Sajal Beria, JC Rojni Jain, GPC \(/taxonomy/term/86\) secretary Nava Thakuria.

“The machine will be useful for destroying the used sanitary napkins and it will address the periodical problems of the concerned ladies,” said Ms Somani.

She also added that the JCI had taken up the target to install over \(/taxonomy/term/2166\) 1000 such machines across India \(/taxonomy/term/2367\) within this year. Inspired by Prime Minister Narendra Modi \(/taxonomy/term/2361\)’s hygiene & cleanliness drive, the JCI had already installed 25 machines in the city \(/taxonomy/term/1957\).
