In yet another high voltage drama that changes the state (/taxonomy/term/2332)’s political landscape in Arunachal (/taxonomy/term/2194) Pradesh, Chief Minister Pema Khandu and the Congress (/taxonomy/term/90) legislators, mostly, have joined People’s Party of Arunachal (/taxonomy/term/2194) on Thursday.

Except Nabam (/taxonomy/term/2429) Tuki who helped Khandu become the new Chief Minister remained in the ruling party a month after Kalikho Pul commite suicide.

The development took place just two months after the Supreme Court restored Tuki as (/taxonomy/term/2291) Chief Minister in the Congress (/taxonomy/term/90) government. The north eastern state (/taxonomy/term/2332) has 60 assembly seats and Congress (/taxonomy/term/90) had 47 MLAs while BJP has 11 with two independents.
