The public health engineering & water supply department is bracing up for a grim financial crisis (/taxonomy/term/2355). An astronomical amount of money has yet to be realized from the central and state (/taxonomy/term/2332) government offices in the division. The department has missed the revenue target because of the unrealized amount.

The entire situation has forced the deputy commissioner to step in. Deputy Commissioner Tamiyo Tatak has asked all departments to clear the pending bills to avoid penalty charges.
