Thanks to Golaghat dist. administration Aideo Handiqe, the first female cine star of Assam is still alive among us. When any body opens <http://golaghat.nic.in> the website of Golaghat dist. administration, there are many mild shocks and surprises in store for them. For instance Aideo Handiqe is very much alive according to the website and now leads a lonely life at her home in Panidihing Gaon, near Kamargaon. Moreover the website name Mr. Harendra Nath Bora as the Deputy Commissioner and adviser of the website, but what will surprises the visitors the most that Mr. Bora had long been transferred from here. There is incomplete information about the local educational institution and even the oldest educational institute of Golaghat, the Govt. Bezbaruah Boys Higher Secondary School did not find a mention, so also Golaghat Commerce College, the only commerce education institute in Golaghat town. Also the name of the present DC is missing from the site. Internet which is the most effective mode of communication and information now a days has not been harnessed to proper use by the dist. administration of Golaghat which only points out to the sorry state of affairs prevailing in the administration.
