A special assembly session in Nagaland (/taxonomy/term/1597) on Friday confirmed TR zeliang’s strength two days after the former NPF leader (/taxonomy/term/1820) took oath as (/taxonomy/term/2291) chief (/taxonomy/term/2020) minister again.

Altogether 46 legislators from NPF, BJP along with a few independents voted for TR Zeliang on the floor while 11 legislators opposed thr motion at the end of a high voltage political drama in the north eastern state (/taxonomy/term/2332).

The special session took place in Kohima (/taxonomy/term/1867) at 9.39 in the morning where the new chief (/taxonomy/term/2020) minister cleared the test in the house of 60.

The Naga Peoples' Front, which expelled Zeliang has already issued a single line whip not to support the former leader (/taxonomy/term/1820) who poached a section of legislators to resume as (/taxonomy/term/2291) the chief (/taxonomy/term/2020) minister a couple of months later.

Governor (/taxonomy/term/2435) PB (/taxonomy/term/2211) Acharya (/taxonomy/term/1955) will administer oath to the new cabinet ministers (/taxonomy/term/2422) on Saturday evening after clearing the floor test.
