A special assembly session in Nagaland (/taxonomy/term/1597) is set to confirm the strength of TR Zeliang who took oath as (/taxonomy/term/2291) chief (/taxonomy/term/2020) minister at the end of a high voltage political drama in the north eastern state (/taxonomy/term/2332).

The special session is taking place in Kohima (/taxonomy/term/1867) at 9.39 in the morning where the new chief (/taxonomy/term/2020) minister is sure of support from 48 legislators in the house of 60.

The Naga Peoples' Front, which expelled Zeliang has already issued a single lunge whip not to support the former leader (/taxonomy/term/1820) who poached a section of legislators to resume as (/taxonomy/term/2291) the chief (/taxonomy/term/2020) minister a couple of months later.

Governor (/taxonomy/term/2435) PB (/taxonomy/term/2211) Acharya (/taxonomy/term/1955) will administer oath to the new cabinet ministers (/taxonomy/term/2422) on Friday evening after clearing the floor test.
